Global Sustainability

My purpose is to transform the Product Stewardship process and align it with United Nations Sustainability goals and put it at the forefront of any company.

An efficient Product Stewardship and sustainability program is vital for a company's success and growth. Yvonne is a highly accomplished Product Steward with 5 years of experience through demonstrated excellence in minimizing impact of companies through their operation and products. Through a high – level of focus and performance, she embraces a passion for Product Stewardship to bring about cultural change, through initiating training programs, testing and audit controls, streamlining, facilitating, and improving operational procedures. She comes with a global experience in working in different continents and cultures.
